Keys and macros are very useful in order to achieve automating web surfing tasks, like clearing cookies or passwords. If you need to do something in your browser, a key or a macro can save you a lot of time and you may also find them very useful in order to perform common tasks. Screenshots: Installation of the plugin KEYMACRO Editor KEYMACRO key Change the values for the newly added Macro and save it. Plugins manager Menu key: add a key Change the value of the new key and close. With the new key you can access the link you added in the "New Link". Click "Add a key" to add a new key. Change the value you want to the new key. Save the new key. In the plugin manager add a new macro and put the link you created in "New Link". For example: Paste the link in the "New Link" and save the macro. Click "Add a macro" to add a new macro. Change the values you want to the new macro. Save the macro. In the plugins manager add the new key and the new macro. Let's see the usage of the plugin 1. Loading a url with KEYMACRO First of all, we need to load the url we want to access. We can use the hotkey "v" or "t" to open the URL bar. Now that the URL bar is opened, we can load the URL by typing the key in the URL bar and pressing enter. If the link you typed in the URL bar is already in the current tab, you can just press enter to load the link. If the link you typed in the URL bar is in a different tab, you can use the key macro to open the link. 2. Clearing the values for the link There are some websites that have settings that prevent us from accessing their contents. For example, when we try to access the website, we are redirected to the login page. We can use the key macro to clear the settings. We can also use the key macro to remove passwords from the website. 3. Renaming the current tab Sometimes we want to access a website with a different name. We can use the key macro to rename the current tab. 4. Uploading a file We can use the key macro to 2edc1e01e8
